About the City of London Migraine Clinic

The City of London Migraine Clinic – a registered medical charity founded in 1980 – provides access to a team of doctors with a specialist interest in the management of migraine and other headaches. We offer outpatient appointments to all patients from the UK and abroad by prior arrangement. We are the only independent migraine charity who provides treatment for primary headaches. We receive no government funding, but work with PCTs and hospitals to help reduce waiting times and improve care for headache sufferers. The feedback we receive speaks for itself, with 90% of patients stating the service they receive with us as 'excellent'.

Research into the causes and better management of migraine and other headaches is also undertaken. Standard treatments for migraine as defined by the International Headache Society have resulted from studies. Our findings are fundamental to the advice given by the NHS, various migraine charities and the British Association for the Study into Headaches. We continue to study drug and non-drug treatments for migraine at the Clinic in peer reviewed clinical trials. Patients may be given the opportunity to try new treatments in a clinical study. We ask our patients to consider taking part in current or future trials, but there is no obligation and the care we provide is not affected in any way.

The Hormonal Headache Symposium will be held at:
Derek Willoughby Lecture Theatre,
Barts & The London School of Medicine & Dentistry,
Charterhouse Square Campus, Charterhouse Square,
London, EC1M 6BQ.

(Nearest tube stations are Barbican and Farringdon).

The fee for the Hormonal Headache Symposium is £125 pp

Speakers

Prof J Guillebaud MA, FRCSEd, FRCOG Hon FFSRH, Hon FCOG (SA) is Professor Emeritus of Family Planning and Reproductive Health at UCL. He was the world's first gynaecologist and vasectomy surgeon to be given a personal chair in that specialty. He works periodically as a consultant to the WHO and other national and international bodies.

Dr Anne MacGregor MD MFSRH MICR is Hon. Director of Clinical Research at the Clinic. She is attached to Barts and the London Medical School of Medicine and Dentistry. She has a particular interest in the link between hormonal changes and headaches in women and through her research has delineated menstrual and menstrually-related migraine.

Prof John Guillebaud and Dr. Anne MacGregor are experts in their field and are the co-authors of the internationally sold book 'The Pill and other forms of hormonal contraception'

Reviews:

"This new book provides comprehensive information discussing the facts, unpicking the myths and addressing the uncertainties around the pill. This is an important read for all women who want to know more and be confident about oral contraception."

Toni Belfield, Director of Information, Family Planning Association

"THE definitive book on pill use for the consumer... and the professional."
