About the City of London Migraine Clinic

The City of London Migraine Clinic - a registered medical charity founded in 1980 - provides access to a team of doctors with a specialist interest in the management of migraine and other headaches. We offer outpatient appointments to all patients from the UK and abroad by prior arrangement. We are the only independent migraine charity who provides treatment for primary headaches. We receive no government funding, but work with PCTs and hospitals to help reduce waiting times and improve care for headache sufferers. The feedback we receive speaks for itself, with 90% of patients stating the service they receive with us as 'excellent'.

Research into the causes and better management of migraine and other headaches is also undertaken. Standard treatments for migraine as defined by the International Headache Society have resulted from studies. Our findings are fundamental to the advice given by the NHS, various migraine charities and the British Association for the Study into Headaches. We continue to study drug and non-drug treatments for migraine at the Clinic in peer reviewed clinical trials. Patients may be given the opportunity to try new treatments in a clinical study. We ask our patients to consider taking part in current or future trials, but there is no obligation and the care we provide is not affected in any way.
